

The Oregon Republicans.

The Oregon Republican Convention Wednesday nominated the following ticket: Governor, Thomas K. Cornelius, of Washington county; Congressmen, Binger Herrmann; Supreme Judge John B. Waldo, of Portland; Secretary of State, George W. McBride, of Columbia county; Treasurer, H. L. Marston, of Umatilla county; Superintendent of Public Instruction, E. B. McElroy, of Benton county. The convention then adjourned to ten A. M. Thursday.

The Ontario Mining Company has declared a dividend of 50c per share, amounting to $75,000, payable on the 30th. This is the 11th dividend, and the aggregate is $7,325,000.

CONGRESS.

An Eastern exchange says both Houses are awakening to the fact that Summer is drawing nigh. The prospect of sweltering in the capital under the fierce heats of late June and July is unwelcome. There is, therefore, a solicitude to be pushing public business forward. In the Senate the Republican majority is trying to agree on the order in which measures shall be considered. Hitherto there has been much strife between committees every one seeking to secure attention for its favorite bill. In this way time has often been sacrificed and slight collisions occasioned. Friendly conference outside the House promises to secure agreement as to such matters, and much of the time is given this week to affairs pertaining to our foreign relations. But the session is so advanced that it is perfectly safe to predict that not a few measures whereon the two houses have failed in former years to agree will go over to future sessions. Some of them indeed are of pressing importance, but they will remain in the catalogue of unfinished business.

The lower House is trying to show activity. Rival committees are attempting to secure from the House special assignments for their pet measures. The other day the advocates of the Hennepin Canal asked the House to designate a day for acting on that scheme, but as a two-thirds vote is needed to suspend the rules the motion failed. A bare majority voted for it, and the scheme must go over to the next session, and as that will be a short session, opponents can then easily stave off action. The committee on naval affairs were equally unsuccessful in persuading their colleagues to fix a time for considering their recommendations. Our phantom navy is therefore likely to become still more shadowy. However, according to Admiral Porter, we have men and water, which are two of the elements needed, and the Admiral can meanwhile continue writing novels.

Report says that President Cleveland is exerting his influence in favor of Morrison's tariff bill, but thus far with but slight success. Mr. Randall and other Pennsylvania Democrats are not enamored of the bawling of Mr. Morrison and Mr. Hewitt, and refuse to be coaxed to show it any mercy. We are half surprised at the President's course, if his party are not agreed on tariff reform.

The farmers of Ohio and California do not delight in fire wool, or lumbermen in free wood and the fisherman of New England ask for our own markets, and exult not in the free importation of Canadian fish. The Keystone State for over half a century has favored the protective policy, Democrats and Whigs of former days united together in support of home manufactures, and both Democrat and Republican from that State will vote at the earliest hour to strike out the exacting clause of any bill which threatens to close their mills or lessen the demand for their coal. Unlikely as the Senate is to accept any bill which free-traders offer, the President is but wasting time and weakening his influence by acting as sponsor for the bill of the gentleman from Illinois.

Belmont, Chairman of the Committee having in charge the Morrow Anti-Chinese bill, is firmly opposed to the measure. He is of the opinion that a new treaty should be negotiated which would go to the bottom of the whole matter and thoroughly exclude immigration. He is strongly in favor of settling this matter completely in the right way, and reflects the ideas of Secretary Bayard in this matter. Bayard desires to negotiate a treaty with the Chinese Minister which will effectually exclude Chinese immigration.

President Cleveland told a delegation the other day "I strive to do my best. I can't please all, that is impossible. The American people are peculiar. I please myself and do what I think is right, and it is sure to please the people."

CALIFORNIA OFFICES.

Conflict Between Hearst and Fair.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Senator Fair and Senator Hearst nearly every day have a political collision. While Fair was the only Democratic Senator from the Pacific Coast, he made a great many recommendations for office. Hearst now finds that Fair has recommended men for office to whom he is opposed. For instance, Fair is backing Tully for the Postoffice at San Francisco, while Hearst is for Greathouse. Fair is pushing Glasscock for United States District Attorney. Fair is for Captain Hackett for United States Supervising Inspector of Hulls at San Francisco, while Hearst is for Wright. Thus the two Senators conflict through the entire list of applicants for the offices yet to be filled. Hearst wants Fair to get over into his own State and let California alone, but Fair is not inclined to do this.

It has been said that Fair would oppose the confirmation of Tinnin. Henley says that Senator Vest, who is on the Committee on Commerce, which has Tinnin's nomination in charge, informed him that Fair had made charges against Tinnin. State Senator Jere Lynch had a conversation with Senator Fair to day in regard to the matter. Fair told Lynch that he would do nothing to defeat Tinnin's confirmation. He said that he had been opposed to Tinnin's appointment, but as the President had selected Tinnin he should raise no obstacle to his confirmation.

Another office will probably soon be created in California which will be more sought after than the offices the terms of which are only for four years. If the new Federal Court is created in Southern California, as it probably will be, a United States District Judge will have to be appointed. The term is for life, or until disability renders service impossible. This office will undoubtedly be much sought after, though, as yet, no candidates have come to the front. The only Federal Judge that Cleveland has appointed is Senator Jackson, Judge of the Ninth Circuit. It is thought that the President will select the new Judge, when it shall become necessary to appoint him, from Southern California.

On the continent of Europe there is at least a cloud of war as big as a man's hand. Greece has thousands of soldiers in the field, and a Turkish force is massing on the borders. Great Britain demands peremptorily that Greece reduce her force, both military and naval, but Russia objects to the imperiousness. It is therefore thought that she is encouraging the little Hellenic kingdom in her quarrelsomeness, and it is alleged that Austria and Russia are on the brink of a conflict. But for the fact that Bismarck is reluctant to hasten the war, hostile armies would be approaching each other within a month. And how long his reluctance may continue nobody can tell.

Senator Beck says that the Platt resolution for the open consideration of nominations will be beaten three to one when it comes to a vote. Platt says that Beck's view of the vote his resolution will receive is quite a concession. "A short time since," he says, "Senator Beck thought the resolution would not get even a respectable vote." Still the strongest friends of the resolution, including Platt himself, hardly believe that it will be adopted.

Dr. Congressman P. D. Wigginton, of California, proposes to be an independent candidate for Governor on a platform which will favor a repeal of the naturalization laws, and only Americans to hold office. His motto is "America for Americans." He does not expect to be elected, but his aim is to start a movement for the organization of a new political party.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is very indignant over certain statements concerning the charges against his son. He says that he has not been to Washington in connection with his son's case and adds "I never spoke to the President either before or after my son's nomination, and never raised my finger to help him get the office. These charges are now four months old, and he has refuted them all."

THE PRESIDENT AND SENATE.

A Partial Treaty of Peace Likely to be Patched Up.

The Washington correspondent of the Post says there are a larger number of nominations awaiting the action of the Senate Commerce Committee, and which are at present carefully filed away until some agreement shall be made between the Republican majority and the President. A number of Democratic Senators recently held a meeting, the object being to ascertain whether some arrangement could not be effected whereby these nominations could be reported back to the Senate for either confirmation or rejection. It was the unanimous opinion that something ought to be done, and as each of the Senators had one or more friends whose fate is still hanging in the balance, it was decided to enter into a conference with the Republican side of the chamber. Such a conference was asked for, granted and held. The Democrats found that there was no disposition on the part of the Republicans to make the slightest concession which could be construed a backdown from the position taken in the Edmunds resolution. After this point had been discussed and settled the Democratic Senators then began to inquire as to the exact kind of action which was desired on the part of the executive. This was debated at length, and finally it was agreed that if the Secretary of the Treasury would write a general letter granting the committee access to the papers on file in that department, that all cases which were comprised in such a letter would be taken up and disposed of. Both sides agreed to that proposition. Then a committee of the Democrats went up to the White House and had a long and interesting talk with the President. They told him that unless the action proposed by them was acceded to the greater part of the work done by the administration in the line of appointments would amount to nothing, and the result would be great and useless embarrassment to the Democratic party at large. Mr. Cleveland listened very intently to the arguments made and said that he did not propose to recede from the position taken by him when the issue was made between the executive and the Senate. He recognized the fact, however, that there were a large number of cases in which that issue was not involved, and that they were being held up with the others. He was not only willing but anxious that some action should be taken up on this class of nominations. A draft of a letter was submitted to him for his approval, which had passed the scrutiny of the conference of Democrats and Republicans, and he took it under consideration. It is understood that this letter has been the subject of debate at several Cabinet meetings, and it has been decided that Acting Secretary Fairchild shall send it upon the application of the Commerce Committee. About one-third of the nominations now before that committee will be disposed of, unless some hitch arises in the programme as at present arranged.

Presents Their Compliments to Jefferson Davis

An Albany, New York, dispatch of April 29th, reads as follows: In response to a call issued by General Henry A. Barnum and others, the Grand Army men and citizens, to the number of 230, met in the Assembly Chamber to-night to protest against the utterances of Jefferson Davis in his speech at Montgomery yesterday, and, in the words of the call, "to denounce the resurrection of Davis from the oblivion to which the loyal and patriotic people had consigned him." Patriotic speeches were made by General Barnum, Speaker Hearst, Senators Caine, Cogswell and Smith, Assemblyman Van Allen and others. The assembly sang "John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in his grave." The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That treason is odious, and that the Union of the United States of America and the liberty which the American principle of popular government illustrates, is worth the blood of all loyal citizens of our country.

Brigadier General Thomas H. Ruger has been assigned to the command of the Department of Dakota and Brigadier General J. H. Potter to the command of Missouri.

HOME RULE.

The Views of Prominent Men Presented at the Washington Mass Meeting.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—A mass meeting assembled here to-night in pursuance of a call issued by a number of the members of Congress and business men of Washington, to sympathize with the efforts of Mr. Gladstone to secure a Parliament for Ireland. On the platform were seated Senator Van Wyck and Representatives Randall, Phelps, McKinley, Gibson, O'Hara, Glass and other members of the Lower House of Congress.

Ex-Speaker Randall, in taking the chair, expressed his profound sympathy with the cause of home rule in Ireland. This meeting, he said, sought to strengthen the hands of Gladstone, the greatest of modern orators and statesmen, in every possible respectful and positive way. America desired that England should see that justice to Ireland was safety to Great Britain. Ireland was entitled to the consideration of the United States because her gallant people had, on every occasion, been the friends of free America. "Let us give," he said, in conclusion, "Gladstone and Parnell all the encouragement which we, as Americans, can extend. To do less would be base desertion." [Loud applause.]

Senator Van Wyck spoke enthusiastically of the triumph of home rule which was about to be obtained by Ireland, and rejoiced that Ireland was encouraged and strengthened by the aid, not only from America, but from the English people. The American people had a right to meet in assemblies like this and had struggling Irishmen god-speed in their efforts, and especially had the people of Washington that right. There was no home rule here. The same class of men who denied it to Ireland denied it to the people of Washington. The aristocracy of blood in England put their feet on Ireland, the aristocracy of money put their feet on Washington, and the aristocracy of money was the meanest.

Ex-Speaker Randall then read a letter from Samuel J. Tilden, in which, after acknowledging the receipt of the invitation to be present on an occasion so full of interest, I, none the less, join with you in applauding the exertions of the illustrious statesman of England and the great leader of the Irish people in behalf of the cause of home rule. Their efforts to obtain for Ireland that full measure of self government and liberty which the people of the several States of the American Union enjoy have my cordial approval and support. At length I trust the day of delivery is near.

Letters were also read from Senator Sherman assuring the meeting of his hearty sympathy in the movement for home rule in Ireland, and from Senator Logan stating that he had ever been and now was for loosening the grasp of the iron hand of England from the throat of the Irish people.

Representative Anderson, of West Virginia, then addressed the assemblage, heartily sustaining the efforts of Gladstone to secure home rule for Ireland.

Senator Riddleberger, of Virginia, spoke at length of Gladstone's home rule bill, which he criticised as falling far short of Ireland's just dues, but he advised Ireland and Irishmen to take it as a breastwork for something behind which they could fight for further concessions.

Representative Phelps, of New Jersey, eulogized the loyalty and patriotism of Ireland, and was glad to be able to forget the past and think of the present and future.

Representative McKinley, of Ohio, thought that whatever Parnell approved of Irish Americans ought to be satisfied with. "Let us get for Ireland to-day all we can, and to-morrow let us get for her all she deserves." He was glad to find the United States on the right side of this question. The United States had always been on the right side of everything—and the Irish have always been on the side of the United States. It has been the pecuniary support given to Parnell that has enabled him to fight Ireland's battles, and he has fought them peacefully with American money.

Representative O'Hara, of North Carolina spoke of the glory of ancient

IRELAND AND THE TYRANNY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in their peaceful effort to secure local government the people of Ireland are entitled to the deepest sympathy of the American people, and that the Hon. William E. Gladstone and Charles Stewart Parnell are hereby extended our earnest assurances of confidence in their patriotism, and the approval of their wise and noble efforts.

Resolved, That the following telegram be forwarded to these distinguished statesmen: "An immense meeting of the prominent citizens of the United States was held here to-night. Many distinguished members of Congress, Governors of States and other eminent citizens, send congratulations to you, and cordially approve and sustain your efforts for self-government for Ireland."

Telegrams and letters were received from Patrick Ford, George Perry of Florida, O'Neil of Alabama, Abbot of New Jersey and Ogelsby of Illinois, and Fenton Blair, expressing regret at their inability to be present and expressing sympathy with the movement for Ireland's freedom. Speeches were also made by Representatives McMillan of Tennessee, McAdoo of New Jersey, Butterworth of Ohio, Lawler of Illinois and Mr. Harmon of Chicago, expressing sympathy with the movement.

A CHANGE OF CONSULS

Dr. Bryan to Succeed Newmark at Lyons, France

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Dr. E. H. Bryan, of San Francisco, was nominated to-day by the President to be Consul at Lyons, France. Dr. Bryan takes the place of another Californian, who was appointed by Cleveland last year, who is now removed for malfeasance in office. It is M. J. Newmark, of Los Angeles, a retired banker and a capitalist who is said to be worth half a million dollars. Mr. Newmark was endorsed by nearly all the bankers of San Francisco, and had on his papers the names of many prominent men. He was recommended by Henley. When he went to Lyons he appointed as his clerk the son of his predecessor there Newmark, according to the records in the State Department, has been selling his advice to exporters at Lyons about certain matters which directly pertain to consular inspections or certificates. This is a violation of the rules of the Department, and for this he was removed. Dr. Bryan, who was to day nominated to the office, was recommended by Hearst, Henley and nearly all the prominent Democrats in the State. California has received but little recognition in Consular appointments, and the President said that he wished to correct this apparent neglect.

A TAX CASE

The Supreme Court has rendered a decision in the case of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, plaintiff in error, vs. the People of the State of California. This suit was brought in the State Courts by the State of California against the Southern Pacific Railway Company to recover $31,470 58, claimed to be due for taxes. The railroad company petitioned for the removal of the case to the Federal Courts, but the Supreme Court of the State of California refused to grant the petition. The Supreme Court of the United States, the Chief Justice delivering the opinion, reverses that judgment and remands the case back to the Superior Court of Los Angeles county for removal to the United States Circuit Court in accordance with the prayer of the petitioner. Chief Justice White did not express an opinion on any other question than one of legal practice, and no hint was given as to how the railroad tax cases are to be decided.

We sympathize sincerely with Mr. S. S. Sears, of the Elko Independent, in his heavy sorrow at the loss of his wife. He recently was called upon to mourn for his son, a fine youth of nine, which makes this affliction all the harder to bear.

The Indian Reservation at Pyramid Lake has a full school of seventy pupils, all doing well. There will be considerable more grain grown there this year than ever before. It is reported that the Indians are getting along finely there.

The members of the Masonic Committee, who are to make arrangements for entertaining the Grand Lodge, are requested to meet at Nasby's Bazaar this afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Senator Fair is working constantly to secure the reopening of the Carson Mint. The whole matter rests with the Secretary of the Treasury, and owing to his illness, but little progress has been made of late. Mr. Fair has had several interviews, with acting the Secretary Fairchild, on the subject, but that official does not want to act in the matter in the absence of his chief. So says a Washington dispatch.

CELIA ALSBERG.—Kentucky, which has been called the "Mother of Juliet," has found a powerful rival in the new State of California, one of whose daughters has just made her successful debut as a legitimate star. Miss Celia Alsberg is twenty years of age and possesses a lovely, mobile face, a graceful figure and a rare degree of intelligence. During the past season she has filled leading roles with Lewis Morrison, and has been particularly successful as Hazel Kirke, Cicely Blaine, in the Gaily Slave, and other kindred pieces. Miss Alsberg will appear at the Theater to-night in a role particularly suited to her talents and beauty. Isabelle, in "Measure for Measure."

A MURDEROUS CONSPIRACY.—A Victoria, British Columbia, dispatch of April 29th, says: The interest of the public in the case of Sproule, the American, condemned to die on May 6, has been reawakened by the publication of the affidavit of one Charles Wolfe, of Kootenay, the principal witness for the prosecution, on whose evidence Sproule was convicted of murder, that his whole testimony was a falsification and the result of a conspiracy with others to hang Sproule and possess themselves of his mining claim. A public meeting is called for Monday night, to consider the matter.

STATE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.—Through the kindness of Senator Fair the library of our State University has been enrolled at Washington as a place of deposit for public documents printed by the Government. Yesterday 174 volumes were received and are being placed in position in the library.

THE NEW LAUNDRY.
Open for Patronage Next Monday Morning.

The experiments made by the managers of the new laundry have been most satisfactory. On Monday it will start up, with a full force which will consist of W. H. McInnis, manager; C. W. Eaton, engineer; C. S. Scott, washer; Dennis Murphy, ironer, assisted by Ben Barnett, Al. McFarlan, Miss Hannah McKinsey, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Sullivan; C. W. Powell, receiver and distributor of clothes, and F. S. Berry driver of wagon. This force will be increased by six or eight more, principally ironers. To-day the different families will be called upon and the names of patrons will be taken. No price list will be published until a test is made, when the schedule of prices will be fixed as low as possible. The wagon, which everybody will recognize, will be on the street Monday. The managers are much encouraged with the favorable outlook. Orders for washing at all times can be left at the Depot Hotel, the Palace Hotel, M. Nathan's, Gallatin & Folsom's, Leadbetter's and the Laundry.

SAN FRANCISCO MEAT MARKET.—Slaughtering rates to dealers for whole carcasses are as follows. These quotations are for general offerings. Stuffed meats of all kinds are proportionately higher:

BEEF—First quality, 6 1/2 @ 7c; second quality, 5 1/2 @ 6c; third quality, 4 1/2 @ 5c @ lb.

MUTTON—Wethers are quotable at 5 @ 5 1/2 c and ewes at 5 @ 5 1/2 c @ lb, according to quality.

VEAL—Large, 6 @ 8c; small, 7 @ 9c @ lb.

LAMB—Quotable at 8 @ 10c @ lb for Spring.

PORK—Live hogs, grain fed, 4 1/2 @ 4 3/4 c; stock hogs, 2 1/2 @ 3c; dressed do, 5 1/2 @ 6 1/4 c @ lb.

BOOSTING THE RAILROAD BOYS.—There have been three extra passenger crews, with Messrs. Denson, Coats and Plumb as conductors, put on the Truckee Division of the C. P. R. R., which extends from Wadsworth to Callin, in order to handle the increased passenger business, in consequence of the recent cut rates. These crews and conductors made their first trips Thursday. In consequence of the great quantity of business in the freight line, brakemen Patton and Clark have been promoted to the station of Conductors of freight trains.

PATRONIZING "HOME." The Carson Index, of Thursday, says:

Ex-Senator Stewart this morning received 4,000 pounds of household supplies from San Francisco, including a full line of flour, oils and groceries. The prices are not known of course, but it is safe to say that many of the articles could be purchased in Carson for less than cost and freight from the Bay. Home trade and home rule will be found a much better system among our citizens than purchases abroad. This fact will eventually be as apparent to the Senator as to those who have gone through the mill in Carson.

IMPROVE YOUR CATTLE.—By an advertisement in another column, stockmen will perceive that they can have an opportunity to procure choice breeds of cattle. H. F. Hapgood, agent for A. B. Mathews, of Utah, will be in Elko on the 14 of May with fifteen head of Galloway and Angus bull, which will be for sale. The stock are said to be the premium beef cattle of the world.

BUY CATTLE, YOUNG MAN.—Five years ago a young man living on Walker river invested $355 in seventeen head of young cows. He has furnished milk and butter to an average of twenty-five persons ever since then, has sold $500 worth of beef, and now owns a herd of cattle worth $4,500. All this off the investment of a year's wages. Horace Greeley advised young men to "go west." The News Reporter advises them to buy cattle.—Dayton News Reporter.

ATTRACTING ATTENTION.—R. F. Pixley, the well-known mining expert, was in town Monday on business for an English syndicate, in connection with the Hladley mine in Garfield District. His company offers to bond the mine for sixty days for $200,000. This is very encouraging for our Dayton boys, who own the entire property.—Dayton News Reporter.

Where shall the Republican State Convention be held this year?—Reno Journal.

At the Capital, General.—Carson Index.

Shake!

THANKS TO SENATOR FAIR.—Senator Fair continues to place the JOURNAL under obligations for valuable public documents forwarded under his frank. The latest contains reports from Consuls of the United States on the produce, commerce and manufactures of the respective consular districts in which they are located, and is valuable as a book of reference.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN M. J. SEE.—Old residents of Reno will remember Captain See, who resided here, and later at Glenbrook, with his estimable wife. The Captain died in St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco, April 21, 1886, and was buried by the Army Boys of Alameda Post, of which he was a member. Captain See had long been afflicted with heart disease.

SECRETARY MANNING.

He is Determined to Resign—A Strikewort to Succeed Him.

When the President called upon Secretary Manning a day or two since, the question of the Secretary's resuming his duties was discussed. Mr. Manning spoke of the serious nature of his attack, and what a narrow escape he had met, and then told the President candidly that he had come to the conclusion that it was best for him not to go back to the Treasury. The President regretted this decision, but he could not gainsay the arguments of the Secretary. It was understood, however, between them, that Manning would not at present tender his resignation, but would give the President ample time to look around for a proper successor. Assistant Secretary Fairchild, who has been acting as Secretary during the illness of Mr. Manning, although it is reported in inside circles that the President contemplates selecting some one who will be acceptable to the stalwart element of the Democracy, which is now so thoroughly dissatisfied.
